dije is part of our identity

“Our mission is to generate, study, and teach strategies, practices, and tools for addressing educational problems and to prepare practitioners, policy-makers, and researchers who can develop equitable and just educational opportunities.”

dije is how we can best achieve our mission:

We engage in this work inwardly—looking at our own strategies, practices, and tools—to be able to fulfill our mission authentically and with integrity.
What do we mean when we say dije?

We commit to

- Increasing diversity, which is expressed in myriad forms, including race and ethnicity, gender and gender identity, sexual orientation, socioeconomic status, language, culture, national origin, religious commitments, age, (dis)ability status, and political perspective.

- Advancing equity, which entails challenging and responding to bias, harassment, and discrimination and creating equal opportunity for all people.

- Ensuring inclusion, which means creating a space where differences are welcomed, different perspectives are respectfully heard, and where every individual feels a sense of belonging and can fully participate in our community.

- Promoting justice, which means the provision of equal respect, institutional access, and inclusive learning and work environments. Promoting justice means that we may have to take extraordinary measures or distribute resources differently than in the past as we seek to redress unjust practices that may result from structural barriers or institutional practices.

Where are we right now in our dije efforts?

dije is a continuous process

This academic year (2022-23), we are gathering our learnings from dije 1.0 (launched in 2016), evaluating our efforts, participating in collective visioning activities, and charting the course for dije 2.0.

As we transition into this next phase of our work, we continue to build upon the thoughtful, inspiring work of those who came before us.

What have we learned about ourselves?

High-level Findings

From the 2021-22 Campus Climate Survey

Our graduate student body and our faculty are among the most racially diverse across U-M units.

But we must continue to work on diże in our community.

Strengths

STUDENTS
- 77% feel treated with respect
- 76% feel valued by other students
- 75% feel listened to by instructors

FACULTY
- 71% feel treated w/respect
- 69% have experienced professional growth in their unit
- 61% feel valued in their dept.

STAFF
- 69% have experienced professional growth in their unit

Opportunities for Growth/Change

SOE COMMUNITY
- Work toward shared understanding of diże among all SOE community members
- Promote greater belonging among students, staff, and faculty
- Build collectively shared expectations for workload equity among faculty

Transitioning from dije 1.0 to 2.0

The SOE Moving Forward Together.

Learning from dije 1.0 (2016–22)
- Complete dije 1.0 evaluation process
- Plan Fall engagement activities

Crafting our dije 2.0 vision
- Conduct collective visioning activities
- Use SOE community input to draft dije 2.0 plan
- Submit dije 2.0 plan to ODEI for content review and OGC for legal review

Sharing out and gearing up for dije 2.0
- Share highlights of climate data with SOE community
- Expand dije office team with new specialist and student members
- Conduct engagement activities (e.g., town halls, create student advisory board)
- Provide resources on website and communicate all dije information via SOE intranet

Preparing to launch dije 2.0
- Share details of the dije 2.0 year one plan with students, faculty, and staff
- Launch dije 2.0 year one plan implementation
